No children by either union. He obtained a divorce from his first wife about seven or eight years after she had been confined in the Insane Asylum at Pendleton, Oregon, and was declared incurable.

He came to Oregon from Minnesota with his parents and settled in St. Johns, a suburb of Portland, and where he and his mother still reside.

He never had the opportunity for much of an education, as his father's health failed, while he was but a boy, so that it fell to him to work and earn what he could, when he should have been in school. He worked at whatever he could find to do before leaving Minnesota, and after coming to Oregon, and during the war he was employed in the shipyards. After the shipyards were closed he worked in the Cooperage for a few years, was also employed by the Pac. Tel. & Tel. Co., for several years as a groundman.

She is a member of the Presbyterian Church of St. Paul.

214.

WILLIAM PILLING 135. DIMOND.

Born Oct. 24, 1897, at Brooklyn, N. Y.

He is still single and living at home with his mother and sisters, in St. Paul, Minn.

215.

DOROTHY MAUD 135. DIMOND.

Born Feb. 20, 1903, at St. Paul, Minn.; d. Sept. 2, 1917, at St. Paul.

She was educated in the Public Schools of St. Paul and became highly accomplished for one of her age, in a literary way. In fact her last composition was considered so good that the school had it printed and a copy sent to her folks. She wrote a very good hand and her letters were well composed, as I, the compiler of this book, can vouch for, having some of her letters in my possession.

She was of a loving disposition, a conscientious Christian, and wanted those whom she came in contact with to become the same. Her thoughts were constantly of others, instead of herself and she loved her people very dearly.

She was taken ill during the later part of August 1917, with black diphtheria and after but a few days of sickness, died Sept. 2, as did another sister and a brother within a few days, of the same dread disease. The entire family with the exception of the two oldest boys were confined in a hospital at one time for the black diphtheria. Her death was a sad blow to her mother and father as well as to the rest of the family and her school-mates and friends.

She is gone but not forgotten,
There is just another vacant chair;
She's abiding with the angels,
She has climbed the Golden Stair.

She has left us, Oh! the Darling,
But she's free from every care;
Now she's resting, sweetly resting
Up in Heaven, Oh, so fair.

Rest, sweet rest,
That is the thought, when our spirits leave us,
Rest, sweet rest,
Oh! for that peaceful, rest in Jesus.

Dedicated to her memory by her uncle,
S.A. Dimond.

216.

ALBERT LESLIE 135. DIMOND.

Born Sept. 11, 1910, at St. Paul, Minn.; d. Sept. 1, 1917, at St. Paul, Minn.

Taken suddenly ill and died of that dread malady black diphtheria.

Taken in innocence
To live in purity.

217.

MARJORIE ELEANOR 135. DIMOND.

Born Apr. 27, 1912, at St. Paul, Minn.; d. Sept. 6, 1917,
at St. Paul, Minn.

She was the last one of the three children, of Mr. & Mrs. C. H. Dimond, to be taken suddenly ill, and died within a few days of black diphtheria.

Just to think that these last three children all died within a weeks time, with the father in the hospital, from a skull fracture caused by being slugged by some unknown, would be assassin, and the mother and two other children in the hospital with the same malady, the oldest son away to war and the second son not permitted to go near them. It is such as this, that tries the mind, of the stoutest in mental and physical intellect.

She was but a simple little flower
So lovely, so joyous and so gay,
But she came into the home
To bloom, and send happiness along the way;
But that dread disease diphtheria
Came into that home so fair
And plucked the sweetest blossom
And took it to the Home Over There,
We miss her, how we miss her!
None can take her place,
But when we get to Heaven
We will see her fair, sweet face.

221.

IRIS ISABELLE 137. DIMOND.

Born April 15, 1903, at Sauk Centre, Minn.; m. August 29, 1923, at Portland, Oregon, to Aldred E. Richards, Rev. W. A. Allen officiating.

Children.

- 306. I. Betty Jean.
- 307. II. Lois Evelyn.
- 308. III. Kathleen Elaine.

She is a member of the Sellwood Methodist Episcopal Church.

She obtained her education in the Sellwood Grammar School, having graduated from there, and then attended Washington High School for four years, and graduated from that school and received her diploma. She afterward took up teaching and taught in the school at Minto, Oregon for one year, and then on getting an offer of a school at Scholls, to teach in the Kinton School, which was nearer home, she accepted it and taught there for two terms. It was while teaching in the last named school that she met Mr. Richards, and whom she married. After her marriage she gave up teaching so that she might give her attention more fully to the keeping of her home. She resided with her family at or near Multnomah, a suburb of Portland, for a few years, but now lives near Clackamas, Oregon, where her husband is engaged running the Red Feather Nursery.

222.

ALDRED EUGENE RICHARDS.

Born August 15, 1902, at Odessa, Nebraska; m. August 29, 1923, at Portland, Oregon, to Iris I. Dimond, by Rev. W. A. Allen.

Son of Harry Arthur and Alice Elizabeth (Mancour) Richards.

He has six brothers and seven sisters, namely: Harry, Edwin, George, Frank, Robert and John Richards; Mabel, Edith, Ethel, Marion, Mildred, Edna and Evelyn. All living in or within close proximity to Portland.

His occupation for several years was that of a truck driver, but he decided to find something with less heavy lifting as his health was not so good as it had been so he took up painting and has been working at that most of the time since. Later - He was offered a position to take charge of the Red Feather Nursery near Clackamas, Oregon and accepted it, moving there and is still in charge of the same.

HARRIETT KATHERINE 137. DIMOND.

Born March 27, 1906, at Newberg, Oregon; m. August 29, 1929, at Portland, Oregon, to Harold H. Jess, by Rev. Charles B. Harrison.

Children.

- 309. I. Joyce Marie.
- 310. II. Maxine Elaine.

She received her education in the Sellwood Grammar School, where she graduated and then attended Washington High School for two years, when she decided to quit there and take a business course at a Business College. So as to fit herself for work with less time expended in doing so, she took a course in Secretarial work at Northwestern School of Commerce, in Portland, and graduated and received her diploma from that school.

After finishing her course in the Business College, she was first employed by the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, in Portland, for about a year; upon leaving their employ she went to the Chevrolet Motor Co., starting work for them Jan. 12, 1925, and remaining with them until June 15, 1934, or about nine and one half years, when she resigned to take up her duties at home as a housewife, having married in 1929. She took up nearly every branch of Secretarial work there was connected with the Chevrolet Motor Co., while in their employ, until she had worked her way up to one of the highest positions occupied, by a lady, in the Company.

She is a Methodist by profession of faith, being a member of the Sellwood M. E. Church of Portland, Oregon. She was an active worker in the Church and the Epworth League, and at one time held the office of President of the League, as well as holding other minor offices at various times. Being so successful as a President of the League that they afterwards elected her to the office of 2nd. Vice-President of the District Cabinet, which office she held for two years. The District Cabinet being composed of the Leagues of some thirty odd churches was sufficient to make her a pretty busy person, outside of her work for the Chevrolet Co. But she loved the work and they seemed to love to have her in the work. She was an active member in the Church and League up until after her marriage to Mr. Jess, but her time being so fully taken up with the Chevrolet Motor Co., and her home affairs she saw that she was not going to be able to do justice to the affairs of the League and so resigned as an official of the Dist. Cabinet of the Epworth Leagues, but is still found in attendance at the services of the Church and League.

She was married at the home of her parents on what was then known as Leo Ave., but since has been changed to Lambert St., the impressive ring ceremony being used, and in the presence of her near relatives and a group of intimate friends.

HAROLD H. JESS.

236.

RUTH 148. NOTTAGE.

Born Jan. 3, 1899, at St. Paul, Minnesota; d. Feb. 20, 1937 at Portland, Oregon.

She is a graduate of the High School of Newberg, Oregon. After her graduation there she attended the Monmouth Normal School and graduated from there. She then took up teaching, but is now attending college at Seattle, Wash.

She came to Hillsboro, Ore., with the family in April, 1908 and to Newberg in April, 1912. She attended the Public Schools of Hillsboro and Newberg and then graduated from the Newberg High School at Monmouth, Oregon. She then taught for a time in Hood River, later for two years at Marshfield, Ore., and then for seven years in the schools at Las Vegas, Nev.

At her Mother's death in 1930 she returned to Newberg and made her home there with her father for more than two years, when she was called to Seattle and was employed as a governess till she became ill and was brought to Portland October 26, apparently on the way to recovery but did not improve as was expected and was then returned to the Emanuel Hospital in Portland, December 30, where, in spite of all the care that loving hearts and gentle hands could give, and the skill of the best physicians and surgeons that could be found to restore her to health, she answered the summons to her Eternal home.

When but a child she gave herself definitely to the Saviour, and during her subsequent life was a faithful and devoted Christian. Long before she had finished her high school course she became a teacher in the Sunday school and continued regularly in that department of the work of the church. Those who worked with her loved her and testify to her fine Christian character and ability as a teacher in the Sunday School. She was one of those beautiful souls who lived quietly and yet wielded an influence for good wherever she went.

She has crossed the beautiful Jordan
The storms of life have passed,

She is resting, sweetly resting,
In that Beautiful City of God, at last.

Where the cares of life
No more she will see,

But with her loving mother
Forever more she will be.

They say this Home is so bright and fair,
That no sin or sorrow can enter there;

I'm sure its enough, to want to cease to roam,
And be with Jesus in this Heavenly Home.
